

Living the life at Longlands

Longlands consists of five fully equipped, beautifully furnished luxury safari lodges that overlook the spectacular North Devon coast and is situated on the western border of Exmoor in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

Each luxury Safari lodge sits on a platform that juts out of the hillside so that the front deck is 2m off the ground (but well enclosed to keep children and dogs safe). Here you can enjoy wonderful views of rolling hills, the lake, where there is a boating lake with boats. You can see the sea from here and later in the day watch the sun set.

Each lodge has a wood burning stove and a wood burning boiler to generate the hot water for the en-suite shower and separate wash room. There is even a fully plumbed butler's sink, a vintage leather Chesterfield and antique blanket box and dresser.

Longlands guests are very well provided for and they basically just have to take along are their clothes and a toothbrush! You will find everything you need including coffee, tea, hot chocolate, ketchup, oil and vinegar. Guests can pamper themselves with natural aromatherapy shampoo, soap, conditioner and body lotion. There is lovely bedding, bath and beach towels, candles, wood and fresh herbs.

Each lodge sleeps six in a master king bedroom, twin single room and a double cabin bed which caters for larger families. Babies and toddlers are also looked after with a high chair, change mat, a toddler loo seat and ladder sides for the cabin bed to convert it into a cot or play pen. Up to 2 dogs per lodge are welcome and they will be provided with a bed, towel and bowls for them. They will also provide a dog sitting service plus numbers for the local Vet and pet shop. There is a nominal charge of £25 per dog.

There is an extensive menu for guests to order from a meal is ready on arrival and being licensed guests can call up for a bottle of wine, local cider or beer. Their honesty shop has snacks, drinks, ice creams, games, nature kits, colouring books and cuddly toys... and it is open all the time.

There is lots to do at Longlands you can paddle around the island, catch a fish, shoot a goal on the football pitch, score a run in the cricket net, shoot a hoop at the basket ball net or netball net, smash a winning shot on the table tennis table. And all that before exploring the 17 acres of land with its stream side walks and nature trails through ancient woods. You might spot the local wildlife. There is also a boating lake and stream side walks and ancient woodland.

Here you can experience some of the best star gazing opportunities in the country as Longlands looks onto the first International Dark Sky Reserve in Europe.

For adventures further afield there is an amazing array of things to do. You will never be bored. The staff are on hand to help you with ideas of what to do and where to visit. Isn't it time you booked your stay?
